THE GARDENS/WHITECREEK?

'BY AND BY'

Written by

Kimberley Wu

Based on Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare

To the Reader: Romeo and Juliet are both written here as female-identifying and presenting individuals. Camera directions are written in italics.

To the Actor: Slashes indicate line breaks as they appear in the original text. You may choose to honor or ignore them in your performance.

To Grandma: No, I don't have a boyfriend. But if I did, I think you would love her.

INT. HALL - NIGHT

ON ROMEO. Uncertain eyes drift across the page. A pen scrawls across paper.

PAN RIGHT: Romeo's paper to Juliet's book.

ON JULIET. A page in a book turned. Restless eyes wander about the words. An energy drink can, cracked open. A frustrated sign and the book is shut. CUT ON BOOK SHUT.

ROMEO. Eyes dart up from the writing, guarded at first, then enchanted.

JULIET. Eyes lift slowly to meet a gaze, immediately enamored. WE FADE TO-

MONTAGE:

ON ROMEO AND JULIET. Chasing after each other, playful.

Walking together, holding hands. Their arms swing in sync.

Lying together. One of them tucks the other's hair behind an ear, smiling.

ON ROMEO. Telling a story. Juliet is enamored.

ROMEO & JULIET. Giggling. Then laughing, uncontrollable. They steal a quick kiss.

Content, foreheads tenderly pressed together- never to part.

END ON SCORE END.

INT. HALL - SAME

Juliet collects her things and leaves, passing Romeo. She hesitates, then decides. Go get the girl!

EXT. PATH - CONTINUOUS

Juliet walks with her things, earbuds in. Romeo follows from a distance, smitten. Before she can get a word out-

JULIET

What man art thou that thus bescreen'd in night / So stumblest on my counsel?

ROMEO

By a name / I know not to tell thee who I am. / My name, dear saint, is hateful to myself / Because it is an enemy to thee. / Had I it written, I would tear the word.

*
*
*

close distance new —

JULIET

My ears have not yet drunk a hundred words / of thy tongue's utterance, yet I know the sound: /
 Art thou not Romeo, and a Montague?

*
*
*

ROMEO

Neither, fair saint, if either thee dislike.

Juliet pauses. How foolish to think she was in danger!

JULIET

Thou know'st the mask of night is on my face, / Else would a maiden blush bepaint my cheek / For that which thou hast heard me speak tonight. / In truth, fair Montague, I am too fond, / And therefore thou mayst think my 'havior light: / But trust me, gentleman, I'll prove more true / Than those that have more cunning to be strange. / I should have been more strange, I must confess-absurd!*

reach for him

ROMEO: this is permission to go for it!

ROMEO

Lady, by yonder blessed moon I swear / That tips with silver all these fruit-tree tops-

JULIET

O, swear not by the moon, the inconstant moon, / That monthly changes in her circled orb, / Lest that thy love prove likewise variable.

ROMEO

What shall I swear by?

JULIET

Do no swear at all; / Or, if thou wilt, swear by thy gracious self, / and I'll believe thee.

ROMEO
If my heart's dear love-

JULIET
Well, do not swear. Although I joy in thee / I have no joy of this contract tonight. / It is too rash, too unadvised, too sudden, / Too like the lighting, which doth cease to be / Ere one can say 'It lightens.' Sweet, good night! /
This bud of love, by summer's ripening breath, / May prove a beauteous flower when next we meet.

Oh god- would you look at the time...

— physical watch

JULIET (CONT'D)
Good night, good night! As sweet repose and rest / Come to thy heart as that within my breast!

— break
hands

ROMEO
O, wilt thou leave me so unsatisfied?

— reach out for hand

JULIET
What satisfaction canst thou have tonight?

ROMEO
[The exchange of thy love's faithful vow for mine.]

— this is serious

JULIET
I gave thee mine before thou didst request it: / And yet I would it were to give again.

ROMEO (teasing) Wouldst thou withdraw it? For what purpose, love?

JULIET
(playful, but a clear farewell)
Good night.

— break
hands

She begins to walk away, but remembers-

— do not close distance.

JULIET (CONT'D)
Romeo!

ROMEO

My dear?

JULIET

At what o'clock tomorrow / Shall I send to thee?

ROMEO

At the hour of nine.

JULIET

'Tis twenty years till then. I will not fail.

there is distance.

Romeo and Juliet part ways. Their love lingers, as do we.
